This is the twelfth year that Art Jewelry Forum (AJF) will be providing the Emerging Artist Award of $5,000 to a contemporary jewelry artist.

The purpose of the award is to acknowledge promise, innovation, and individuality in the work of an emerging jewelry artist, and to help advance the artist's career. The competition is open to makers of wearable art jewelry who:

- have completed their academic/professional training,
- have been out of school for one year or more,
- and whose submitted work must have been unsupervised; work from BFA or MFA shows may not be submitted.

Beginning with this year's award, artists who have had a solo exhibit in a gallery or museum may also apply.

DEADLINE: SEPTEMBER 30, 2011

For more information about the award, visit the AJF website, www.artjewelryforum.org/programs. Applications may be submitted beginning in May at www.callforentry.org.

The winner will be announced at SOFA New York (International Exposition of Sculpture Objects and Functional Art), April 2012, where the artist's work will be exhibited at one of the AJF member galleries. The artist's work will also be featured in an AJF ad.
